On August 5, 2017 at approximately 2:44 AM, Hudson Police and Hudson Fire responded to Route 111 for a report of a motor vehicle accident. Through the course of the investigation it was determined a 2002 Toyota Highlander driven by Andrea Gould, 25 years old of Allenstown, NH, was traveling West on Route 111.

At the same time, a 2011 Ford Econline Van driven by Stephen Skellchock, 61 years old of Londonderry, NH was traveling Eastbound.

The Toyota crossed the double yellow line into the Eastbound travel lane and the vehicles collided head on causing the Toyota to roll onto its roof. Skellchock was wearing a seatbelt and was not injured. Gould sustained non-life threatening injury and was transported to Southern New Hampshire Medical Center for her injuries.

The roadway was shut down for about an hour. Both vehicles sustained heavy damage and were towed from the scene.

The crash is still under investigation. Gould was arrested and charged with Driving While Intoxicated. Gould is scheduled to appear in court on August 10, 2017.
